YOUTH PHILANTHROPY COUNCIL

The Youth Philanthropy Council empowers White County youth to grow as leaders and make a difference through philanthropy and community leadership. Each year, YPC runs its own grant cycle to support initiatives in local schools. By building leadership skills, learning about community needs, and engaging in the grantmaking process, members create meaningful impacts they can see firsthand.

Serving on the YPC this year is Ella Grennes, Ellie Zarse, Chase Pekny, Lillie Jaynes, Chase Maddox, Emmalyn Stockment, Harvey Plantenga, George Govert III, Mariah Anstett, Shaylen Shepherd, Katy Westerhouse, Blake Turner, Sophia Culp, Paige Gutwein, Addi Govert, Ava Getz, Sami Hindi Jr., Alayna Williams, and Brooke Greene. All four county schools are represented among this group of exceptional young people, maximizing the impact of their awesome work!

Next March, the YPC will announce their grant awards and honor those at their own reception in May. Stay up to date with the YPC and their impact in the community on our website.

Interested in supporting the next generation of philanthropists? Thanks to the ongoing matching opportunity and Dave & Debbie Shook, current donations to build the Youth Philanthropy Council Endowment are being matched 6:1!
